

SOUTH END GEM

by Elise Bainbridge
Gallery Director for Anne Neilson Fine Art

Anne Neilson Fine Art is approaching its one year anniversary.

Almost everyday at the Gallery, I am asked by a client "What piece would you pick?" That is such a hard question to answer because purchasing art is so personal. My role as gallery director is to hand select each artist, curate the gallery, and share the artists' vision and history of the piece. I want to find pieces that resonate with our clients and collectors. My passion is to inform you, and assist you in finding art that enhances your life.

Not everyone's eye is drawn to the same style or art period. While I am personally drawn to more contemporary pieces, gallery owner, Anne Neilson, is drawn to more classical art. This variety helps us curate the gallery with something for everyone. The walls of the gallery reflect this range from oversized abstracts by Joyce Howell, to tiny classical lamb portraits by Deb Kaylor. There is also a trend towards photography and photorealism; such as works by Dean West, Josef Hoflehner and Oriana Kacicek.

For those buyers who are new to collecting, or even experienced collectors, my advice is to purchase art that you love. If you find a piece of art that speaks to your heart, then buy it, especially if it's an emerging artist. Chances are, if you find an emerging artist whose work appeals to you, and you are passionate about their work, not only will you own artwork that you will treasure, but it in the coming years its value is likely to increase. I often hear our clients say, "I wish I had bought one of Anne Neilson's Angel Paintings years ago!"

Tucked away on a dead end street and sometimes difficult to find, our 2,000 square foot gallery is a gem in historic South End representing over 30 artists from The US, Canada, Europe, and Australia. Whether you are a first time purchaser, serious collector or just want to visit the gallery and peruse the artwork, we welcome you to stop in and let us assist you. We hope you will come and celebrate our One Year Anniversary on Thursday, April 30th with a cocktail reception from 6pm-8pm. *
