

Family Fun in the Queen City

Time flies when we're having fun, and children of all ages enjoy the excitement in our city throughout the year.

The Charlotte Hornets bring NBA excitement to Uptown's Spectrum Center with their last regular home game on April 8th against the Boston Celtics.

Rickie Fowler and many of golf's greatest players will come to Charlotte for the 2017 PGA Championship on August 7-13 at Quail Hollow Club. The PGA Championship is one of the four major PGA tournaments.

Grab your hat and join the party at the 2017 Queens Cup Steeplechase on Saturday, April 29 in nearby Mineral Springs, NC. Sponsorships are available.

Braylon Beam and Charlotte Knights mascot Homer enjoy the fun at BB&T Ballpark in Uptown Charlotte.

Carolina Panther Thomas Davis holds an annual youth football camp with the help of some of his teammates to train the young players.

Mike Tolbert, Greg Olsen and Jonathan Stewart can't contain their excitement following a great play at a Panthers NFL game in Charlotte.

The annual Carolina Renaissance Festival & Artisan Fair will take place on Saturdays & Sundays, September 30 - November 19, 2017.

The 71st annual Novant Health Thanksgiving Day Parade will fill the streets of Center City on Thursday, November 23rd at 9:30 am.